YONAH BAKER'S DETAILED DESCRIPTION

After finishing work, Yonah was heading home in train when she comes across a Facebook advert of a web system that facilitates users to digitize their artifacts and share them among family members.

As she goes through the ad, she realizes that she has got a number of artifacts at home that have a lot of memories associated with them. Moreover, these artifacts were precious but not in use.

Being fascinated by the registry, Yonah decides to sign up for it to see if it is suitable for use by her family. After signing up, she spends an hour exploring it.

Yonah finds the registry interesting and was convinced to use it frequently. Moreover, she decides to invest her time on registry and store her family artifacts on it and share them among family members

Yonah adds an old telephone as an artifact on the registry. That phone was the first phone that her parents owned and they were not willing to throw it away even after technology had completely revolutionized as it had a lot of memories associated with it.

She then gets her mother to sign up to share the artifacts with her. She also teaches her how to use the registry so that she can contribute to the family artifacts in future.

After her mother was convinced, she then gets the remaining family members on the registry and shares the artifacts with them.

All the family members now use the registry and share artifacts among them.
